THE BENEFICIARY

Banner MD Anderson Cancer Center locations in Arizona

More than 42,000 Arizona residents will be diagnosed with cancer this year, with more than 14,000 expected to die from the disease. While more Americans are surviving cancer compared to 30 years ago, the disease is striking young- and middle-aged adults and women more frequently, specifically those between the ages of 50 and 64. Racial and ethnic disparities also persist; Black and Native Americans are dying of some cancers at rates two to three times higher than white Americans. Here in Arizona, while breast cancer in women and prostate cancer in men continue to be the most diagnosed cancers, melanoma and other skin cancers have an outsized impact on our residents compared to the rest of the country.

These statistics represent a substantial rise in the burden of cancer in our communities and underscore the urgent need for continued investment in cancer screening, treatment and research.

In 2011, Arizona's leading health care provider, Banner Health, joined forces with MD Anderson Cancer Center, named one of the top two hospitals for cancer care in the nation every year since U.S. News & World Report began its annual Best Hospitals ranking in 1990. This partnership has changed the landscape for cancer patients and their families throughout the region, giving access to cancer treatments that are among the most advanced in the nation at our main campus in Gilbert and extension sites in downtown Phoenix, the northwest Valley, and coming soon to Scottsdale.

Together, we're using clinical trials to develop new and improved ways to prevent, diagnose, and treat cancer. This means every Banner MD Anderson patient benefits from a multidisciplinary team of doctors who review each case individually while accessing some of the latest clinical trials to bring cutting-edge research to bear during treatments. And we're just getting started.

Philanthropic support has played a critical role in Banner MD Anderson's growth and will continue be vital to our plans. With your support, we will make significant, sustained investments in cancer screening and early detection, diagnostic imaging and technology, compassionate and skilled patient care, clinical trials of promising new treatments, community outreach and education to prevent cancer, and supportive services for patients, caregivers and survivors.

With more than 1.5 million patient visits, nearly 200 clinical trials underway, and an ever-growing team of specialists across disciplines, Banner MD Anderson is poised to become our region's premier clinical cancer research program and the vanguard of a revolution in cancer care. Together, we are dedicated to Making Cancer History®.

All donations benefit initiatives at Banner MD Anderson Cancer Centers in Arizona and do not fund research or programs at The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston.
